SCOUT TO BE RECOMMENDED FOR AWARD

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon Scout Robert McCarty, of El Cerrito who undoubtedly risked his life to save the lives of countless others Thursday.

And the cool courage and clear thinking that McCarty showed can in a large manner be attributed to the training he has received in the Boy Scouts.

A Scout is pledged to be loyal and to aid those in distress—to make life mean something clean, pure and strong.

And when Scout McCarty risked a horrible death beneath the wheels of the runaway street-car, he displayed that spirit of self-sacrifice and heroism that his organization strives to instill in the hearts of every boy.

After one becomes "fed up" with the petty meanness that one sees about one each day and the hypocrisy of some of the powers that be in our small world, and then a school boy displays that cool, calm courage, one reflects that after all, life isn't so bad.

Scout McCarty displayed another bit of Scout training when he was interviewed by a representative of the RECORD-HERALD. He displayed modesty—something that is rather unusual in this world of press agents and professional horn-blowers.

Yes, Scout McCarty had been taught that boasting plays no part in Scouting nor in life.

Scout McCarty told his experience in a straightforward simple manner and perhaps in the course of almost an hour, he used the first personal pronoun a half score times.

Scout McCarty is modest—because he knows that another Boy Scout in his place would have done the same job; perhaps not as well—but he would have attempted it. There isn't such a word in the Boy Scout vocabulary as "can't."

Boy Scouts of today are the men of tomorrow. And among the leaders of the next generation one is bound to find that a majority of them are Boy Scouts.

Yes, Boy Scout Executive Robert Cox, you can be proud of your Boy Scouts and you can be proud of Scout McCarty—for Richmond is too.

DELEGATES TO RETURN SOON

LONDON, April 4.—UP—The end of the five-power naval conference appeared in sight today, with England and France still groping for a security agreement and the Franco-Italian parity deadlock unbroken.

The American delegation hopes to sail for the United States April 22 on the Leviathan and already has made tentative reservations. Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson feels he ought to attend to the work piling up for him in Washington.

It was emphasized in American circles that the delegation would not sail April 22 if a five-power agreement was near culmination at that time, but apparently little hope was held of such a development.

Triple Pact Seen
An American spokesman indicated it was possible the United States, Great Britain and Japan would sign a three power agreement, leaving France and Italy to settle their differences by later negotiations. If a Franco-Italian settlement were reached, all the powers could then reconvene to conclude a five power agreement.

The American attitude became known after Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald paid a half hour surprise visit to Stimson at the White House late today. MacDonald informed the American chief of the progress of Franco-British negotiations for a security formula. The American spokesman, referring to the conversation, said both France and Britain were doing their utmost to agree, but added that the problem was a great one and there was little time left to overcome the obstacles presented.

Confident Clause
Unless the British satisfied French security demands sufficiently to cause France to reduce her naval requirements, it was believed that any three-power treaty signed here must contain a "contingent" or "elevator" clause. This clause would give Britain the right to increase her navy in keeping with increases by France and Italy. It would permit the United States and Japan to build proportionately.

There still remained the possibility, however, of a five-power agreement merely settling the principles of disarmament and limiting submarine warfare.

CAR CRASHES INTO HOME

Mrs. Marian Lowley, 203 Bissell avenue, reported to Richmond police yesterday that a machine crashed into her home at the intersection of Second street and Bissell avenue.

The house was slightly damaged and shrubs in the yard of the home were destroyed.

Mrs. Lowley reported that the driver of the car told her that he couldn't straighten the wheels of the car when he had made the turn at the intersection.

The driver promised that he would return tomorrow and repair the damage done to the home, Mrs. Lowley reported.

EARNINGS OF STANDARD OIL ON INCREASE

Showing net profits of $46,633,490.10 or $3.70 per share on the average amount of common stock outstanding during the year of 1929, the Standard Oil company of California yesterday released its last year's earnings statement.

Lioness Shot After Chase

BURBANK, April 4.—UP—After a chase through the brush in Malibu hills and a desperate fight with dogs, a young lioness which had terrorized surrounding communities was shot and killed today by Cliff Snyder, big game hunter.

CLUBWOMEN CONCLAVE CLOSES

The twenty-ninth annual convention of the Alameda District of Federated Women's clubs closed in Richmond yesterday—ending one of the most successful conclaves in recent years.

And with the closing of the conclave, Richmond convention committee, headed by Mrs. Mattie Chandler may feel that the event that they worked so hard for was a complete success.

At the closing session yesterday afternoon the delegates were presented with tea, made by the California Art Tile company in Richmond as a souvenir of their visit in Richmond.

City Lauded
Resolutions were adopted by the convention, lauding the city and the newspapers for the aid they have given to make the conclave a complete success.

Dr. Kenneth Saunders, president of the Pacific School of Religion, was the speaker at yesterday afternoon's session of the convention. He gave an excellent talk on the Orient, making a plea for a better understanding of the Oriental.

The Occident could receive many things from the Orient that would benefit it, Dr. Saunders declared.

Tea Served
The business session of the convention was then closed and a tea was then served with the Richmond clubs acting as hostesses.

At the morning meeting of the conclave, Maj. Sheridan Bickers, who is known as England's fighting philosopher, was the speaker.

In his address, Major Bickers stressed the importance of every citizen to obey the laws of his country.

Berkeley Woman Killed In Leap

CARMEL, HIGHLANDS, April 4.—UP—Believing that she was afflicted with cancer, and preferring a sudden and dramatic death to a slow succumbing to the ravages of the disease, a Berkeley society woman killed herself today by leaping from a high cliff to the rocky shores of the Pacific, hundreds of feet below.

The woman was Mrs. Madge Morrow, 50, divorced wife of Oscar F. Morrow, Berkeley portrait photographer.

In a note which she left for her sister, Mrs. George Stone, Mrs. Morrow said that she was choosing the quicker of two deaths.

Mrs. Morrow was well known in both east bay and peninsula social circles.

Extra Wounded In Film 'War'

HOLLYWOOD, April 4.—UP—The wounding of Jack Haynes, film extra, during a mimic battle on a movie location, was accidental, deputy sheriffs decided today after an investigation of the shooting which put Haynes in a local hospital.

The actor was shot in the groin while two factions were engaged in a make believe war in a deep canyon. All guns had been inspected before the battle, but from some place came a chunk of lead, which imbedded itself in Haynes' groin.

Deputy sheriffs examined all the guns later and said they could find nothing to indicate a deliberate shooting.

Census Taker Saves Man's Life

CALM POLITICAL MEET AT EL CERRITO

CANDIDATES TELL PLANS TO VOTERS

By E. L. HUNT
Perhaps one of the most peaceful and calmest political rallies that the city of El Cerrito has ever experienced—almost devoid of any bickerings or quarrels—occurred last night at Central hall. The meeting was held under the auspices on Lincoln Post No. 3, Loyal American Advance society.

True, one citizen of the community present at the meeting arose after the candidates had made their speeches and demanded that each answer the question of what should be done about the city paving.

Dr. L. W. Wuesthoff, chairman of the meeting, quickly averted the impending row by a plea to the good nature of the audience.

Plea For Fairness
Of the five candidates for two posts on the El Cerrito city council at the municipal election on April 14, only Charles Zimmerman, incumbent, was absent. Dr. Wuesthoff, however, spoke a few brief words for Zimmerman.

Upon opening the meeting Dr. Wuesthoff pleaded with the candidates and the audience to be fair and to be impartial.

One candidate in his speech trod upon thin ice but quickly made the passage before any damage could be done.

Outside of that, the meeting was quite calm, and quite well directed, with each candidate sharing in the generous applause.

Strike Scored
Curtis Bowman, a candidate, was the first speaker. In his address he scored the strike and bickerings that has ripped El Cerrito wide open at times and pleaded for more cooperation. The council should work as a whole for the best interests of the community, he said.

He lauded Councilman Phil Lee, his running mate, and declared that if he were elected to the city council he would not play petty politics but would do (Continued on Page 8)

PILOT ON U.S. FLIGHT

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—(UP)—Eastward bound in an effort to set a new transcontinental non-stop record for light planes, A. J. Mooney was believed close to the half-way mark tonight after an early morning take-off from a Burbank field.

Without advance notice of any sort, Mooney soared away from the United airport at 6:43:57 a. m. today. It was expected that he would land at Rockwell field, New York, in about 25 hours, if he completed the trip.

Allowing for the three hours difference in time, this would put him down at the Eastern field at about 11 a. m. (E. S. T.) Saturday.

Only a few officials were present when Mooney started. Among them was Joe Nixent, official Los Angeles timer for the National Aeronautic association. He said that the take-off was perfect.

It was said that Mooney designed the plane himself and supervised construction. It is a low-winged monoplane powered with a Kinner motor.

Famous Diva Sues Carewe

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—UP—Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, famous singer, filed suit for $75,000 damages in Superior court today against Edwin Carewe, producer, charging he failed to go through with a contract to star her in four audible films.

Mme. Schumann-Heink asserted that Carewe entered into a written agreement with her under which the first picture was to have gone into production last February with her salary for the picture set at $75,000. She was to have received $90,000 for the second picture, $100,000 for the third and $125,000 for the fourth, she stated.

LONG LOST AX 'SAFE' WITH CARDS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—(UP)—The entire San Francisco bay region was in an uproar today—all over an ax.

Stanford university's historic battle emblem had been returned to the Cardinal campus after being held by its ancient rival, the University of California, for 31 years.

Classes at the two schools were disrupted and thousands of Stanford graduates throughout the world celebrated.

Mingling with shouts of joy from the men and women of Stanford Red were rumors that California students were planning many reprisals.

Scholars at early classes yawned and nodded. Californians had been awake all night chasing those who had captured the ax. Stanfordites had piled out of bed shortly before midnight Thursday to join in a monster parade and they shouted "We've got the ax."

Then a large guard was placed around the board of athletic control building where the ax had been placed in a vault.

Alumni and officials of the two universities were inclined to treat the whole affair as a huge joke and refused to take official cognizance of the incident.

Felon Slain In Prison Break

OSSINING, New York, April 4.—UP—Alphonse Torpilo, a New York city convict serving a term for robbery was shot and killed by a burst of machine gun bullets as he was swimming the Hudson river tonight after a desperate break for liberty in which he had scaled two fences in full sight of guards.

With 1800 other Sing Sing convicts he was in the prison yard preparing to march to the cells. Carello ran from the lineup and scaled an eight foot picket fence. As guards yelled to him, he reached and scaled a second fence, 12 feet high. This brought him to a Hudson river prison dock. He ran along it and plunged into the water.

Swedish Queen Called By Death

ROME, April 4.—UP—Queen Victoria of Sweden died at seven o'clock tonight in a Roman villa she had occupied for her health. She was 67 years old. Much of her life had been spent in traveling in search of a climate that might alleviate her bronchial catarrh, and in the 22 years since her coronation her health was always a matter of concern in Sweden.

The queen died peacefully, in the presence of King Gustav and Princess Ingrid, her 20 year old granddaughter. She had been kept alive many months after her illness grew grave, but was no longer able to muster strength even with the aid of injections.

KEY SYSTEM TO REWARD YOUTH

While city officials and heads of the Key System Transit company were praising the action of Arthur McCarty, 14, El Cerrito Boy Scout in halting a runaway street car Thursday morning averting a disaster various organizations were preparing to pay honor to the youth.

The County Council Court of Honor meeting at the Lincoln school last night made arrangements to recommend McCarty for either a Gold Honor Award, highest honor of Scouting or a certificate of heroism.

A committee of three composed of Robert Cox, local Scout executive, Louis Strand of El Cerrito and T. G. Gray, court of honor chairman will decide whether the youth is to be recommended for the highest award or the certificate of heroism. Several witnesses who submitted written statements as to be questioned on certain points of the incident before the final decision is made. It was indicated, however, that the youth will be recommended for the Gold Honor Award.

Lions Plan Honor

At the same time announcement was made by Alfred J. Lundberg, president of the Key System Transit company that the organization would reward the youth. Comment—(Continued on Page 5)

"WILD" OIL WELL CAPPED

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 4.—UP—The giant Mary Sudik well, wild-gusher of the South City field, was brought under control here late today when a 3000 pound cone was strapped over its mouth and the oil and gas flow was stopped.

The well was brought into submission shortly after six o'clock after men laboring in heavy rubber suits and wearing trench helmets, ear muffs and goggles, strapped the steel cone to the base of the well. A partial stoppage of the flow was made at three o'clock but later the geyser became active, tearing the cap loose and knocking men from the platforms and derrick.

How long the well will remain under control was not known; but Pat Sutton, superintendent of Indian territory Illumination Oil company, owners of the well, believed the cone was firmly attached and ordered only a skeleton crew to remain on the field during the night.

Double Suicide Attempt Fails

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—(UP)—Andrew Morris, 52, a carpenter, was held for observation at the Detention Hospital today, after he had fallen in a dual suicide attempt at Salada Beach earlier in the day.

Failing to shoot himself fatally, Morris attempted to drown himself, but the tide bore him, semi-conscious, back to shore, where he was found and an ambulance called.

Men Have Such Taste!

"WHAT in the world did he see in her?" It's one of the favorite questions of womankind and it certainly has been one of ours, during the few days we have spent in and around Buffalo, covering the much-headlined witchcraft murder trial. Preposterous as it seems, in this year of 1930 and State of New York, Nancy Bowen, an old Indian woman, has confessed that she killed Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, wife of Henri Marchand, a distinguished French artist, because she believed that Mrs. Marchand was a white witch who would kill her and her relatives.

Nevertheless, the State is undertaking to prove that the superstitions of old Nancy were wrought to the white-hot pitch of murder by an old and fierce flame—the alleged flame of jealous hate flaring in the heart of Lila Jimerson, thirty-five-year-old Seneca squaw and delighted recipient of the affectionate attentions of Henri Marchand. Mr. Marchand, held as a material witness, vehemently denies any knowledge of the killing, vehemently protests his devotion to his murdered wife for thirty-two years, but admits that there was between himself and Lila a certain relationship.

"I am an artist," he excuses himself, "not an angel." But isn't an artist, of all men in the world, supposed to have taste? A DISH A DAY

By Nancy Morris

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

That savory German meat, sauerbraten, has captured the imagination of a masculine reader. His appeal for a tried and true recipe easy enough for him to try himself calls for immediate response.

Sauerbraten is nothing more nor less than a piece of meaty beef or pork, placed for two days at least in a sour liquid. Place the cut of beef—bottom round, chuck, rump or sirloin are all good—in an earthen dish, or casserole, and cover with the cold water, vinegar, minced onion, salt, pepper and bayleaf, taste, and if too sharp, add from one-fourth to one-half cup of sugar. Pour over the beef, cover closely and set in a cool place.

In twenty-four hours, turn the beef in the liquid, cover and let stand another twenty-four hours. When it is ready to cook, lift the meat from its liquid and dry with a fresh tea towel or absorbent paper. Melt the drippings in a skillet and when hot brown the meat on all sides in them.

While the searing process is under way, heat the sour liquid in which the meat soaked to the boiling point. Add the second minced onion. Place the browned meat in the casserole and pour over the hot liquid. Cover and let the meat gently simmer at a simmer until the beef is tender, or from one to two hours, depending upon the meat and its shape. An hour and a half may be sufficient for a piece of two pounds. Remove to the serving dish and keep hot.

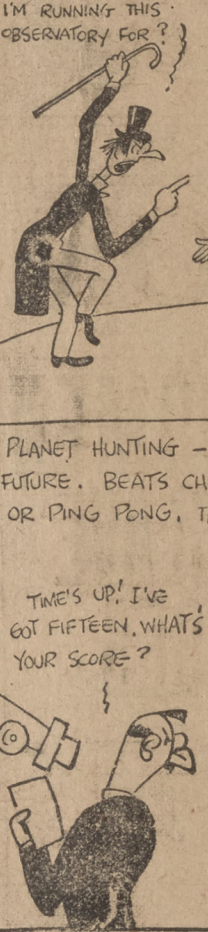

Taste the liquid in the casserole and add the sugar; should the sharpness be too pronounced, dilute with a little hot water. A mite of salt may be desired. Stir the flour into a paste with one or two tablespoons of cold water and mix into the liquid; let boil up once or twice. Pour the nice-ly thickened sauce and gravy in a sauce boat and serve with the savory sour beef.

Modernizing the Home—Beauty to the Fireplace

By Alma Zaiss

MUCH OF THE CHARM OF MRS. A.'S NEW ARRANGEMENT CAN BE VISUALIZED BY REFERENCE TO THIS BEAUTIFUL GROUP PLANNED AROUND ANOTHER SPANISH FIREPLACE.

And along comes this letter from Mrs. A. offering us rough stone walls, tiled floor, beamed ceiling, arched doors, casement windows, a huge fireplace, a good start at period furnishings—almost more than we've a right to look for in one assignment. Although little correction needs to be given to this room, we take pleasure in emphasizing one or two changes and additions which will add greatly to its charm. The outstanding recommendation concerns a feature which is as applicable to all rooms and all periods as it is to Mrs. A.'s room. The hearth is—or should be—the high point of interest in any living room, and no scheme is complete which does not draw about it as much comfort and beauty as the household can provide.

Mrs. A., of course, has already sensed this lack in her room, and speaks of using a low seat at right angles to the fireplace with a long table back of the seat. This arrangement carried out to the right of the hearth would work out very nicely, although the placement shown by the photograph and the diagram would give better balance and stability to the room. Deep green is a good color for the sofa, and a suitable material would be brocade in a characteristic pattern.

A Spring Flower Party

WITH the coming of spring, party decorations take on a light form. Light effects and delicate colors are used. Flowers are much in evidence, and it is quite appropriate to make the flower the chief feature of a party.

Request the guests to represent a flower of their own choice. Some will wear flower hats with a corsage bouquet. It may be a floral bandana or just a flower slipper. The men may wear a floral regalia of a Hawaiian lei, a watch chain, or fasten simply a boutonniere. Beautiful floral costumes may be made of crepe paper.

Floral light shades can be made with the white sparkle floss tinsel suspended on a hoop. There is a decorative crepe paper in a pink rose valance design; by cutting out the design an effective valance is obtained that will make a charming decoration over the top of the floss fringe. Finish it off at the top with a narrow band in a rose design or a band of small artificial roses may be used. Have a bowl or basket of flowers on the center of the table, and spray on the candles or twine a delicate vine about them.

Small bottles of perfume with flowers attached in upright position have the place card attached with gauze ribbon. It would be nice to have a clasp of violets fastened to the bottle of perfume. A single rose may adorn the rose perfume, and so on. If each flower is different place them so colorings harmonize. A flower guessing game may be arranged by ranging the men in a horizontal line. Have each draw a card from a box. This is a number hung on a card and on the back is written the name of the flower the victim is to represent. Each man slips the string over his head so the number pendant on the card will be clearly seen. At the given signal all the men pantomime the flower they represent by drawing it in the air with the finger. Then each performer in turn steps forward and pantomimes his flower, according to his conception. The girls have lead pencils and cards bearing the numbers worn by the men and they are to guess the flowers. The best guesser certainly is entitled to a prize.

There might be a musical program, including the "Flower Song" as a piano solo or phonograph contribution, and such songs as "My Wild Irish Rose," "Sweet Little Buttercup," "Daisies Won't Tell," or one of the several violet songs may be rendered by singers in the costume of the flower.

To match partners have the girls each pluck a flower from a bouquet. Let the men draw a card from a pile. On the card have sentiments pertaining to the flowers. Each man is to find the posy to which the sentiment on his card refers. For instance, "disdain" would fit the carnation (contentment) would apply to the daffodil, and so on.

"D AD, what's a cocktail?" "I suppose you mean a rooster's tail?" "No, I don't. Who could drink a rooster's tail?" "Well, the cocktail to which you refer is a beverage with spirits as a base. There are various kinds." "What are spirits?" "Intoxicating liquors, like gin or whiskey." "Because of its alcoholic content?" "Why is an alcoholic content?" "Oh, go to bed."

THE LITTLE THINGS THAT AFFECT THE MIND! The big things you can get at, while the little ones slip past you, the sentinel of your thoughts and get deep rooted in your imagination, and then there is trouble.

Oh, the things to do when you feel that you have not been on guard is to apply some action—do something, apply the worry.

Often a letter comes that is very disconcerting. It is probably your condition at the time you receive it that enables the worry bugs to get deep rooted in your mind, but perhaps you can write a letter that will smooth things out. WATCH YOUR THINKING!

Raskob Given Quiz At U. S. Lobby Hearing

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(UP)—

Calm and smiling, Chairman John J. Raskob of the Democratic national committee underwent a hearing for his anti-Prohibition sentiments and expenditures before the senate lobby committee today.

The one regular Republican senator on the committee, Robinson of Indiana, questioned him, only to meet heated objections from the two dry Democratic members, Caraway of Arkansas and Walsh of Montana.

While the three senators shouted around the table, Raskob spoke calmly and never raised his voice. He admitted giving the association against the prohibition amendment $66,000 during the last five years, but denied he had taken the Democratic post to influence the party on the subject of prohibition.

Explaining his connection with the association against the prohibition amendment his directorship therein having been the basis of his summons, Raskob said, "We are trying to convince the people the eighteenth amendment ought to be repealed."

"Have you any hope?" snapped Caraway.

"Well, I don't know. We are making some progress."

Robinson cross-examined Raskob about what he knew of the wet association, and after eliciting that he knew of its activities only in a general way, demanded to know if Raskob was accustomed to "giving money and not knowing what it goes for?"

Air Corps To Honor Young

MATHER FIELD, April 4.—(UP)—Governor C. C. Young will be honor guest tomorrow morning when the army air corps stages a review over their base of operations here.

The program tomorrow will be concluded with the review as the army aviators and their first week at the air corps mimic war that is being staged over northern California.

TWO KILLED AS NEW AIRPLANE CRASHES

NEW YORK, April 4.—(UP)—Wardon Hunter, president of the Bach Aircraft company of Los Angeles and R. W. McAllister, veteran pilot were killed late today when the trimotored Bach monoplane in which they were flying crashed into a field at Garden City, Long Island.

Identity of the two victims was established by telegraphic communication with Los Angeles.

The plane, first of its type ever seen at Roosevelt Field arrived Wednesday after a transcontinental flight.

Hunter and McAllister had flown to Bethany, Conn., and were returning to Roosevelt Field today when they crashed.

McAllister was at the controls and was circling the field preparing to land when something went wrong and the ship dived to earth.

The plane was completely destroyed by fire after the crash and the bodies of the two victims were burned to a crisp.

A third man is said to have accompanied Hunter and McAllister in the flight from Los Angeles. His name was not known at Roosevelt Field, however.

Whiteman Cancels Shows In Canada

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 4.—(UP)—Paul Whiteman and his band answered immigration restrictions placed upon him by leaving Vancouver today for Seattle without filling any of his three widely-advertised appearances here.

The jazz king was to have appeared at the Vancouver theater tonight and was to have played later at a dance at the Hotel Vancouver. He was to have furnished music Saturday in the arena rink.

When he arrived here he was told he could make his regular theater appearance as a traveling entertainer but that under immigration laws he could not furnish music at outside dances.

"Well, I shall cancel the whole Vancouver engagement," Whiteman said, and immediately packed up and departed for Seattle with his band.

TORCHBEARER PLAY WINS APPROVAL

Long careful weeks of rehearsals was rewarded last night by a superb performance of the three act comedy, "Chickens," presented at the Roosevelt auditorium by the Torchbearers' class of the Longfellow junior high school.

The production kept the audience in constant realms of hilarity, and was pronounced exceedingly successful by the gathering.

The story dealt with the life of an average family whose main interest was centered about a poultry yard, and the complications which arose, provoked an unending stream of laughter from the spectators.

The selfishness and self sacrifice of a living mother, and the gratitude of a foster son, were commendable features of the play.

The play was directed by Miss Irma Kruse, dramatic coach of the Longfellow school.

(John Greenleaf Whittier, 1807-1892)

"Coming events

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky Strike instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"
Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

CENTERVILLE 9 BEATS LOCAL HIGH TEAM

The heavy hitting of the Centerville high school diamond athletes proved too much for the Richmond union high school nine yesterday when the locals were defeated 9 to 2 on the first street diamond.

In yesterday's contest, the Richmondites did not live up to the pace that they set in Tuesday's victory over the Alameda high school boys.

Centerville commenced yesterday's battle by collecting three runners in the first inning. Richmond retaliated in the second half of the first canto by garnering two runs. However, Centerville added three more runs to their own total in the second and two in the ninth, while Richmond was unable to add to its score during the remainder of the contest.

Babich Yanked

Johnny Babich, who was largely responsible for Richmond's win over Alameda last Tuesday, was batted out of the box in the first inning yesterday. He was replaced by Lemon, who pitched nice ball for three innings. In the fourth period, Bono went on the mound for the local squad, and held the visitors scoreless until the ninth inning.

Joe Viano was the hitting star for the Richmond team, collecting a three bagger.

HIGH TRACKMEN SECOND IN 2 DAY MEET

Superiority in field events yesterday caused Richmond Union High school to climb from third to second place in a two day track meet between Castlemont Richmond, and University High schools.

Castlemont won the meet with 189½ points, while the local athletes finished second with 161.

University High school took third position with 156 credit.

In yesterday's field events, Richmond gained the greatest pointage, 114 total for yesterday's events was 75, while that of Castlemont was 74½. University High school earned 57½ points in the field events yesterday.

In the running and hurdling events on Thursday, Castlemont was leading with 115 counters. University was holding second place with 99, and Richmond was last with 85 at the end of Thursday's events.

Richmond's athletes made a surprising showing in yesterday's part of the tournament.

In the first heat of the shot put, Carson of Richmond captured first place, while Bravin made a third. Locke tossed the shot to earn a first place for the locals in the second heat of the shot event.

Brocke, also of Richmond earned fifth place in the second heat of the shot. Richmond received 13 points in this event.

Carson and Locke again captured first places in the discus throw, while the seconds were taken by Bravin and Brock.

Brock placed second for Richmond in the broad jump, while Dunlevy placed fourth, Dunlevy fifth, and Passone sixth.

Dunlevy won second place honors in the pole vault. Dalton and Maloney took third and fifth places respectively for Richmond in this event.

In Thursday's track events, Albert and Robak won first places in the mile for Richmond, while Johnson and Young, both Richmond boys, finished first in the two heats of the half mile run.

The Richmond Union High school track team will not enter in the Mission track carnival in San Francisco today. However, it is expected that a few local athletes will enter in the trans-bay events of their own free will.

Baptist 5 Beats Cooper All Stars

The San Pablo Baptists swamped the Cooper All-Star cagers 40 to 17 last night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

The San Pablos had little difficulty in breaking through the defense of their opponents, and the contest was very one-sided until the final whistle.

Corey Nine To Play Highlanders

The Corey nine is scheduled to clash with the Highland Athletic club of Oakland tomorrow on the El Cerrito diamond at two o'clock.

The local diamond athletes are fairly confident of victory on Sunday, as they have already registered a victory over the Highland nine.

Brendel will chuck for the locals. This battery is expected to do plenty of damage to the invading Oaklanders Sunday.

The Coreys have been having an exceptionally successful season this year, and the horizon still looks bright for the El Cerrito boys.

Stella stared at her unbelievably. The girl stared at Stella in turn. The woolly heads of her canopied lined the rail like a row of extravagant floor-mops.

"A white woman!" exclaimed the girl.

She was uncommonly handsome, with a handiwork more striking than mere beauty, and which seemed somehow to have been designed specially for her.

"I had no idea of this," she said as she came. Her body was erect and athletically slim, and she walked from the hips with a loose freedom of movement and a slight sidewise swaying.

"I thought this was merely some native enter or other, and so came off to see what they wanted," she said.

There was a richness in her voice, a kind of vibrant music, which was in perfect keeping with her appearance and strange gait.

"You are the first woman I have seen for a year," she said.

Then, a curious uncertainty in the movement, she held out her hand.

In a bewildered kind of way Stella took her hand. The discovery that her dear island was inhabited by others than natives had jolted her mental perspective considerably. She felt emotionally out of step.

"You—live here?" she asked unevenly. Lo-oru and Manna approached, and she wished they would go away. But she made no movement to dismiss them. She was intent upon the other's reply.

"Well, we have been here three months."

"We?" Stella repeated.

"And I. My name is Moira Melrose." She paused enquiringly.

"I am Mrs. Wade. My husband has gone to the village. I wonder you did not meet him." She released the girl's hand.

"I have come from the other side of the island, but not from the village," Moira explained. "My father's schooner is anchored there. He is a pearl diver. And you yourselves?"

"Traders looking for a place to trade in," Stella replied, and realization of her duties as a hostess came to her, she sent Lo-oru for lime-drinks.

Moira leaned against the rail. She hadn't much on. The outline of her form was revealed rather than concealed. Her breasts pressed firmly against the thinness of her colored print dress. Their faintly olive colour was visible almost as their shape.

"And you think of settling here on Motogaru?" she asked.

She was regarding Stella with steadfast attention, as though striving to read her inmost self. There was an embarrassed silence.

"You have come to a very good place for trading," Moira said it as though the remark was the result of considerable cogitation.

"That is good news."

Moira came a little closer.

"I hope you will stay here! I want you to stay here!" A deep earnestness had come into her tone. "You are not like the others!"

"What others?"

Moira ran a hand through the blackness of her hair, sweeping it clear of her brow. It was an important gesture.

"White women—and men!"

"She sat down beside Stella and half-turned, so as to face her."

"I am half-caste!" said Moira, saying it as though the three words were full and sufficient explanation of all the troubles, misfortunes, and miseries that could beset a woman.

"Half-caste!" she repeated with a sudden access of bitterness.

"Oh! said Stella. Then:

CANDIDATES OF EL CERRITO TELL AIMS

 W. F. Huber, an El Cerrito attorney who is a candidate for one of the two posts on the council was then introduced.
 In connection with the city council, Huber stated that he did not want to criticize the city council for he felt that every man in office is doing the best that he can but that he does feel that suggestions made by citizens at the council meeting should be worked upon by the council.

Publicity Advocated
 Full publicity and open meetings of the council were advocated by Huber. He declared that in his opinion the street paving program of the city was not of the best and that the patent paving which is laid in the city is not as good as it could be.

He declared that if the people of the city elect him to the office he will insist that those appointed by the city government shall work to earn their money, and will not work to earn votes for the men who appointed them.
 Hans N. Nissen, candidate, gave a talk that was brief. He declared that he was not "out for revenue" and that he believed himself fitted to the office.

Record Growth
 Phil A. Lee, incumbent, declared that he had lived at El Cerrito 19 years and had served on the city council 11 years. He stated that El Cerrito faces a record growth and this growth can be aided by the city council. If every member works together, it is up to the people to elect the right man for the posts, he said.
 Clifford C. Anglin, a Richmond attorney, was then introduced. Anglin displayed his ability that won him high honors in the oratorical contests conducted by the Kiwanis club.

Good citizenship is the need of America today, he stated, and declared that the finest privilege that a citizen has is that of casting his vote to select the man whom he thinks is fitted to hold office.

Anglin closed his speech with a plea for every citizen to avail himself of his privileges and cast his vote on April 14.

Music was furnished during the evening by the 20 piece El Cerrito municipal band.

 land, stating that a state of ridicule is the most dangerous phase in which a country can find itself when laws are ridiculed.

Dry Law Hit
 He declared that if parents do not respect the laws, how can they expect their children to respect them. It is up to the individual to see that the laws are obeyed, he said.

He declared that he did not believe in the prohibition law, but that while he has been in this country he has not taken a drink, because prohibition is the law and that he has a profound respect for the laws, even though he is not in favor of all of them.

In concluding his talk, Major Pickers declared: "Get rid of the law that cannot be enforced without disrespect, without bloodshed and terrorism and cruelty."

Clubs Honored
 Ten clubs were awarded banners at the morning session for 100 percent subscription to the Federated News, official publication of the federation.

They were Calveras Women's club; Carquinez Women's club; Club Mendelsohn, Danville Woman's club, Glenview, Martinez, Northbrae, Pittsburg, Berkeley and Walnut Creek.

Problems of the state federation were discussed at the open forum. Mrs. Otto Mouron, district chairman of the reorganization of the federation, voiced the opinion that the federation was organized backward, in that first came the club, then the district and then the federation. In many instances, she declared, there is an overlapping of jurisdiction and authority and work.

Resolution Passed
 The need of a closer link with the state federation was voiced.

The following resolution was adopted by the convention yesterday morning:

Whereas: The four federated clubs of Richmond, Club Mendelsohn, Richmond club, South Side Improvement club, Civic Center club, have graciously entertained the twenty-ninth annual convention of Alameda District, California Federation of Women's clubs, be it resolved that we, the women of five counties, assembled, do hereby tender a note of thanks and appreciation to the women of Richmond for the kind and loving hospitality shown and to the members of the local board for their efforts in caring for the details and arrangements of our 1930 convention.

And also be it resolved that we express appreciation to Mrs. C. O. Bryant for the wood block on the program cover and the design for the souvenirs;

To the Mayor of Richmond for extending us the keys of the city;

To the chamber of commerce for many courtesies;

To the First Baptist church of Richmond for the use of their banquet hall;

To Hotel Carquinez for our headquarters;

To the members of Richmond high school band for music;

To the press of Richmond and contributing agencies.

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes and that copies be sent to the Richmond newspapers.

Signed: Mrs. W. Lauchland, Mrs. W. P. Edwards, Mrs. P. A. Hans, Mrs. William Mullins and Mrs. Robert Thom.

HAWKS NEARING GOAL IN GLIDER

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 4.—(UP)—Capt. Frank M. Hawks in his Eaglet glider completed the 14th lap of his transcontinental hop when he landed at Port Columbus at 6:30 p. m. today.

The lap was made in two hours and 45 minutes.

The craft was cut loose from the tow plane, piloted by Duke Jernigan, and for 15 minutes Hawks circled the field without incident.

A broken cable earlier in the day as the craft was taking off from Terre Haute, Ind., was the only occurrence to mar an otherwise perfect flight from East St. Louis, Ill., the captain reported.

The flight is scheduled to be resumed at 8 a. m. tomorrow. After a brief stop in Cleveland where the tow plane will refuel the crafts will continue into Buffalo, their last overnight stop before reaching New York Sunday.
